

NORTHWEST GYNECOLOGICAL CANCER SYMPOSIUM 2019

The Rivkin Center for Ovarian Cancer is proud to present the 2nd Northwest Gynecological Cancer Symposium (NGCS) to be held on Monday, September 25, 2019 from 8:00am to 7:00pm at Orin Smith Auditorium at the University of Washington South Lake Union Campus in Seattle. NGCS is designed to facilitate communication and foster collaboration between scientists and clinicians in Washington, Oregon, and British Columbia working on the prevention, early detection, and treatment of gynecological cancers.

Symposium Format: Invited talks, short abstract talks, poster presentations, and reception

Networking Opportunities: Opportunity for sponsors and attendees to network during the catered lunch, reception, breaks, and poster session

Expected Attendance: 100 attendees from Washington, British Columbia and Oregon

Attendee Demographics: Clinical and research faculty, postdocs, fellows, staff scientists, graduate students, and survivors

Registration: Free registration in order to reduce barriers for local participation and collaboration

About the Rivkin Center

The mission of the Rivkin Center is to improve women's health by helping them prevent, detect early, and survive ovarian and breast cancer. We do this by investing in cutting edge research to prevent and cure ovarian cancer, a deadly and under-funded disease, educating women to prevent and detect ovarian and breast cancer as early as possible, and fostering an ever growing community of survivors, patients, researchers, clinicians, advocates and supporters. We envision a world where women live longer and healthier lives because their cancers are prevented, caught early, or cured.
